Duane:

I apologize for not getting back to you as quickly as I originally intended. As I expressed to you on the phone, I was in the middle of a meeting on an unrelated matter when you had called. In addition, my colleagues were all in Taipei, Taiwan for depositions relating to this matter, which is located in a time zone twelve hours ahead of New York, and I was unable to get in touch with them at the last minute Friday afternoon (EDT). It was not made clear to me in your Thursday phone call, or your Friday correspondence, that Pixart would be imminently filing a motion to quash that day.

In any event, we will be responding to Pixart's motion pursuant to the schedule set by the magistrate judge this afternoon.

Regards,

Lauren

Lauren,

Yesterday you told me over the phone that you would provide a response within an hour. I still have not heard from you. If your decision requires more time, I propose that a new date for subpoena compliance be set. I will be out of the office for at least two to three weeks, so I propose a date no earlier than November 11. However, PixArt USA's position remains the same: it does not have relevant documents or information, and the deposition subpoena should be withdrawn.

Regards,

Duane

Duane:

I apologize for the delay in my response. We would like more time to consider Pixart Imaging's objections to the subpoena for testimony.

In light of that, I propose that we continue the date of the subpoena from Friday, October 4, 2013 to Friday, October 18, 2013 to provide us with the time necessary to fully consider Pixart's objections. I will provide you with our response to your email as soon as I can.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns with that proposed course.

Kind regards,

Lauren

Thanks, Lauren. I do need your response by Tuesday, to give me time to prepare the motion to quash prior to the date of the deposition.

Dear Lauren:

On Wednesday, I sent you PixArt U.S.A.'s objections to the deposition subpoena served on it on September 12, 2013, with a request that Round Rock either withdraw the subpoena or provide written confirmation that it does not intend to go forward with the deposition. I have not received a response. Please advise us today of Round Rock's position so that we can either close the matter or prepare a motion to quash, as appropriate.

Thanks and regards,

Duane
